Canopy By Hilton Will Open in Iceland in 2016

It's time to say halló to another worldwide Hilton option, and this time it's Canopy by Hilton. The plan is to set up shop over in Iceland, as they stake claim to being the first of the new brand to call Reykjavik home.

Work is already underway at the future site of Canopy Reykjavik | City Centre, with the bulldozers and construction crews at hard at work over on Hverfisgata Street. We'd certainly love to visit Iceland sooner than later, but we'll have to take their word for it when they describe the location as "a thriving neighborhood in the centre of the city." We just are curious as to how far away the place is to that famous hot dog stand.

There are plans to incorporate plenty of local this and that to the design and architecture, so when you finally get a chance to check-in at some point in early 2016 expect an open and airy lobby. There will be a rooftop bar and restaurant with sights of the city, and we only imagine that this will be a seasonal option #thankswinter.

Come opening day there will be 115 rooms from which to choose, and ~~basic hotel huma rights~~ goodies like WiFi and an artisanal breakfast will be included in the room rate. They're even promising some kind of little gift to guests upon arrival. The place will be operated by Icelandair Hotels—yep, the ones behind the airline—so expect some package deals and promotions.

So if you're keen on those WOW Air fares this might be a great place to stay on your next, or first, visit to Iceland.
